

Procedure for under 18 applications

Upon meeting the minimum programme entry requirements, the legal parent or guardian of an applicant who are under 18 years of age will be required to accept on behalf of the applicant the offer of a place to study at HWUM and provide consent in writing. This consent includes acknowledging that the University will not act in "loco parentis".

If the applicant is below 16 years of age and able to meet the internship requirements by the programme, the Head of Student Recruitment or nominee will be responsible for arranging an interview with the relevant Head of School and Head of Registry and Academic Support. The aim of this interview is to assess the applicant's ability to cope with the requirements of the programme and the University, as well as adapting to the adult learning environment in order to be successful in the programme of study. The final outcome from this interview will be either to make an offer to the applicant or reject the application. The offer must be authorised by the COO and Registrar of HWUM.
