

Dr Antonin Chapoy

I have been a member of Heriot Watt University for over 14 years. During this time I have experienced many of the opportunities available here, beginning as Research Associate and currently a Senior Research Fellow. I am standing for election to the Senate because I believe I can play a valuable part in representing research staff of EGIS. Through my past experience and association with Heriot-Watt University I developed a good understanding of various aspects and key issues related to the research activities of our school

I now feel that this would be a good time to become more actively involved in the broader functioning of the University through membership of Senate. I would welcome the opportunity to support the University and ultimately its staff and students through my input into the role and the responsibilities this would bring. I trust that my experience can be useful to promote and safeguard our shared interests for the challenges and opportunities ahead.
