

Nasir Al Lagtah

I joined Heriot-Watt University Dubai in 2016 and currently hold the position of Assistant Professor in Chemical Engineering. During my service at the University, I dedicated myself to play an active role in the operation and promotion of the University. Currently, I am a member of the University Senate and an elected member of the Senate Committee for Interim Business and Effectiveness (SCIBE).

I am standing for election to the University Court because I believe I can play a valuable part in fulfilling the Court responsibility to ensure that the University meets its objectives while recognising and valuing the contributions of our diverse population in all campuses. My primary objective is to enhance and strengthen the communications among the University campuses in line with our Strategy 2025. In line with the Court values of transparency, honesty, openness, integrity and objectivity, I will take the responsibility to represent the Senates and their valuable views and recommendations to Court and to promote the provision of high quality educational, welfare and recreational opportunities for the students and staff on all University campuses.

I believe my wide experience in the academia in the UK and overseas, spanning over 10 years in teaching and administration, will allow me to contribute effectively to the University Court.
