

Professor Susan Dewar

I'm one of the academic team within the Institute of Earth and Life Sciences in EGIS, previously in Life Sciences. I've a broad range of academic experience to draw on and have good knowledge of University procedures and policies from earlier appointments including those to the Studies Committees, the Learning and Teaching Board, and the University Discipline Committee.

I'd welcome the chance to represent EGIS colleagues on Senate and to provide a voice for them and the School in matters that relate to the academic work and standards of the University.
